SUMMARY

Senior UX and product designer with nearly eight years of hands-on UX experience and 15 years across digital products, client strategy, and regulated delivery. I design end-to-end experiences from qualitative research, user journeys, and interactive prototypes through high-fidelity systems and engineering handoff. My strongest proof includes enterprise analytics used by 7,000+ people across 22 white-label brands, a research discipline built across 20+ products, and AI-powered workflows designed around transparency and human review.
